Good Morning!

Labor Day is a federal holiday in the United States celebrated on the first Monday in September to honor and recognize American workers. For many, the day symbolically marks the end of summer, although the official first day of autumn this year is September 23rd. With the symbolic end of summer comes the traditional end of summer activities, including the wearing of white and other light colored clothes.

Traditions are important. Honoring them creates unity and sense of family. Traditions are also a meaningful way to remember and recognize those things that are important to us as we pass them along to successive generations. However, we must discern between traditions that honor God and those that honor the world system over God. Paul warned, "See to it that no one takes you captive by philosophy and empty deceit, according to human tradition, according to the elemental spirits of the world, and not according to Christ" (Colossians 2:8).

We can honor God as we celebrate Labor Day by remembering to acknowledge and thank Him for giving us the ability and opportunity to labor gainfully, as we recognized that ultimately our jobs are His means of providing our needs and those of our family.

For those who are our guests today, in behalf of Roseland Park Baptist Church, you are welcome here! Of all of the places you could be, we are so glad you have chosen to spend this time with us. If you would like to know how to become part of the family of God, or even how to become part of the Roseland Park family, I would love to discuss it with you.

Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow!
Dan
